DIVE INTO HISTORY

Featuring historic vineyard plantings in the Pacific Northwest, History aims to craft limited releases of ultra-premium wines that pay homage to the pioneers of the Oregon and Washington wine industries.

Inspired by a storied vineyard now owned by her mother-in-law, Founder and Winemaker, Melissa Burr, started the brand in 2013. She researched other historic vineyards in the Pacific Northwest, curating a collection of truly rare and unique wines.

TASTING NOTES FROM WINEMAKER, MELISSA BURR

The Quail Run Vineyard is a warm site in the Rogue Valley, growing Syrah that is full of intensity, complexity and depth. The color is stunning with a dark purple hue. The palate is filled with savory notes of black olive and pepper, plum, sweet tobacco and flint. This wine aged for two years in barrel prior to bottling and will continue to age well for years to come. I understand if you don't have the patience. Pour yourself a glass.

VINTAGE OVERVIEW

The 2018 vintage was a cooler than normal year in Southern Oregon, but that resulted in a winemaker's dream of a harvest. The fruit came in showing darker and more robust characteristics, as well as sugars, pH and acidity close to perfection.
